

Joining the Braided River Quilters Website

Each member of the Braided River Quilters group that has an email address has been sent an invitation to join the new website. This is a website for BRQ members only and will be a place to communicate with friends, learn what other folks are doing, see projects and just enjoy quilting more. This handout will walk you through the initial steps of setting up your account.

Step #1 – You will or have already received an email inviting you to join the web site. When you open the email it will look like this. Notice the yellow button in the middle of the email that says “Click to join”. All you need to do is to click that button with your mouse and it will start the process of getting your account setup and authorized.

Step #2 – Your Internet browser should start and take you to a web page that will get your account setup. It looks like this. You will need to fill in this form with a password, which needs to be entered twice, and your birthday. You will also need to type in the security code that appears with the wavy characters on the screen. Once you have filled in these boxes, press the orange “Sign up” button.

Step #3 – After pressing the “Sign up” button, your screen will change and look like this. You will need to fill in your full name. If you want to, you can load a picture of yourself or of a quilt you did or some other graphic that would represent you. This is an optional step. You will also need to fill in your gender, country and zip code, all also optional pieces of information. When you are done, the screen will look like this. You can then press the orange “Join” button. You will then see a final screen and this will send your data to Rebecca who will then authorize your account.

Your membership to Braided River Quilters is pending approval
Hello, John Willoz

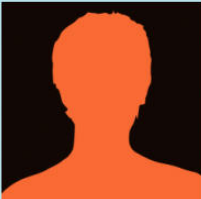

Your profile details must be approved by the Administrator before you can become a member of Braided River Quilters. You will receive an email once your profile is approved. \(Withdraw Request\)

Step #4 – After Rebecca has approved your account you will receive another email that will look like this. Simply click on the link in the email and that will take you back to the BRQ website as a member. It should look like this and the initial setup of your account is complete. From here you can, if you wish, customize your profile.
